JUDGE J.O. ENGLISH HONORED

Former Probate Judge J. O. English has been selected by the Coffee County Commissioners as the person most outstanding in service to the county. The selection was made June 19 at a special meeting of the commissioners, held in Enterprise.

Judge English's name will be submitted for judging statewide with one person from every county to select the most outstanding person in the state.

The resolution read in part as follows:

WHEREAS, the Honorable J. O. English has served the people of Coffee County as Judge of Probate and Chairman of the Coffee County Commission from January 1947 until his retirement in January 1971, a period of twenty-four years; and

WHEREAS, the said J. O. English fulfilled his duties as Probate Judge and Chairman of the Coffee County Commission in an able and efficient manner during his long tenure in office; and

WHEREAS, the Coffee County Commission deem it appropriate and befitting that he be recognized for the leadership that he rendered to the citizens of Coffee County in fulfilling his duties as Judge of Probate and as Chairman of the Coffee County Commission at all times was a most stabilizing factor and a wise and efficient leader.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Coffee County Commission that it nominate Honorable J. O. English for his outstanding contribution to the County government of Coffee County for the able leadership and wise counsel rendered during his long tenure in office, which honor is befitting to be bestowed on such noble and able leadership in performance of his duties as Judge of Probate and Chairman of the Coffee County Commission.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be furnished to Honorable J. O. English, Superintendent of Probate, Probate Judge of Coffee County, Alabama.

Collier To Head Board

John Collier was named head of the Elba School Board here Tuesday. Collier was named chairman. The chairmanship each year and the board was Fred Collier.

During this action, the board with the only vote against Mrs. Betty Collier again this year. Collier said she wanted to know her reasons for not being re-elected.

Mrs. Dorcas Collier, 11, is interested in the school and want to cooperate with you any way I can. She expressed confidence in the present board and she was ready to do anything she could to help the school.

The time was spent in discussing discipline (or lack of discipline) in the schools. It was the opinion of the board members that if proper discipline was maintained in the schools, the problems would be solved.

Chairman Collier said that it seemed that the feelings of the community were in the school. Further action, Superintendent Elmer Taylor reported on the operation of the school. This had been mentioned at the last meeting, but this time he gave a detailed report. The elementary school lost $1,345.82 on total income of $61,253.38; the middle school lost $1,861.22 on total income of $30,235.94 while the high school lost $1,009.37 on total income of $60,114.28. All three schools averaged together lost an average of 1,184 students each day. Taylor reported that beginning in September, it would be necessary to charge more for lunches. This will be to serve the minimum lunch required by the State of Alabama to get participation from the state on each lunch. The board set no figure for this increase, but will discuss it at the next meeting.

Mrs. Frankie Parris was hired as secretary in the Superintendent's office. She has worked in the office previously and Taylor told the board she was qualified and highly efficient. The selection was unanimous.

The board reviewed several applicants for the position of Assistant Principal at the high school. Taylor told the board he was not at this time ready to recommend anyone. A special meeting will be called within ten days and Taylor will have several applications and will recommend one to the board.

Also the need for an additional counselor for the school system was discussed. Taylor read a letter from the Southern Association of Schools that indicated one additional guidance counselor was needed for the number of students in grades seven through twelve. No action was taken on this matter.

Taylor presented a school schedule for the coming year. The board adopted it without change. School will open on August 25. The Superintendent will release copies of the schedule with holidays, as soon as they can be prepared. Students will be in class for 177 days, according to the schedule with the traditional holidays which include Labor Day, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas and one week for AEA.

The final item of business included approving some curricular work at the middle school and appointing board member Russell Cash to work with Taylor on pricing some improved bleachers on the visitors side of the football stadium.

Need More Safety Says Expert

Private organizations and individuals rather than federal government agencies may have to take over the bulk of the nation's safety effort in the future, according to National Safety Council President Vincent Tofany.

In a recent speech, Mr. Tofany said, "It has become a national habit to turn more and more to government to achieve whatever ends we seek. This has become conspicuously true in safety in the last decade. The impression had been widespread that Uncle Sam was going to solve the problems. Alas, the reality is quite different."

Mr. Tofany said government has not succeeded at many of the safety tasks it has undertaken.

"The funding of the national traffic safety program has never kept pace with what was promised," he said. "On the occupational front, OSHA (the Occupational Safety and Health Act) is in trouble. Three of the large industrial states—Illinois, New Jersey and New York—have pulled out of their state plans, imposing heavy new burdens upon OSHA which it has neither the manpower nor the money to meet. . . . In product and environmental safety, federal programs are even less large in scope and are having less impact."

Mr. Tofany called for more involvement in the safety effort by private sector groups—such as industry, civic organizations, trade associations and unions—and by state and local governments.

Johnston Was Speaker At Rotary Club

Elba Police Chief M. W. Johnston, left, was guest speaker at the Elba Rotary Club on Monday of this week. He spoke on rising crime in the nation and answered questions about the Elba police department and crime in the local area.

Johnston told the group that while crime was rising in the nation, it has actually dropped in the Elba area. He credited the constant work of the people in his department with preventing many crimes.

He said while dope is a problem in Elba and in the local schools, it is not the problem many think it is. Johnston stated that he knows every user of drugs in the Elba school and many of them are on a program to get them broken from the drug habit -- and it is working, said Johnston.

The chief noted that he has the full backing of the city officials. He said they have backed him in every situation and this is what it takes to get the job done.

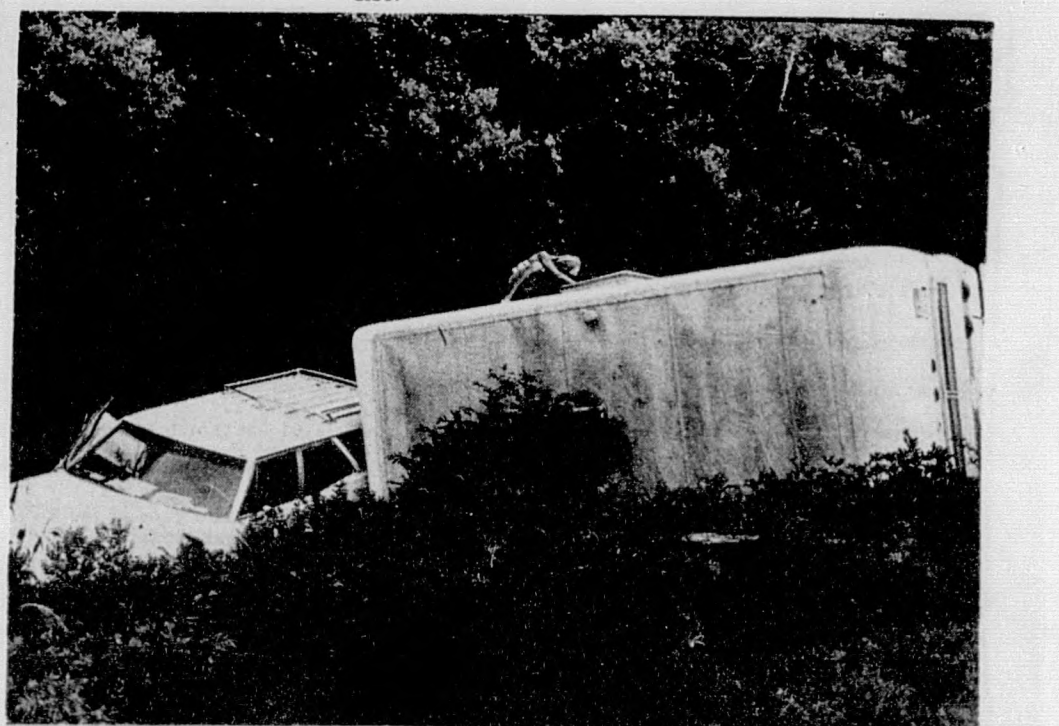

Sheriff Jails Two Following Stabbing

The Coffee County Sheriff's Department, arrested Rosie McGowan, age 60, last week and charged her with assault with intent to murder. She was charged in the stabbing of W. J. Rogers, age 59, according to reports from the sheriff's office.

Rogers was also arrested. He was charged with public drunkenness. The injuries were classified as minor and officers report the stabbing resulted from a family argument.

Elba Police Report Country Club Break-In

The Elba Police Department reported a burglary at the Elba Country Club Thursday night. The burglars entered by ripping the handle off the kitchen door. The only thing reported missing was $20.54 in cash taken from the pro shop. Manager, Jack Sondergaard told this newspaper that the file cabinet was broken open and the money taken. He said the person or persons apparently went straight to the money, because only the drawer with the money was disturbed. He reported no missing merchandise.

It was a small escape for this family. The car was from Huntsville. The lost control, ran off the highway and overturned near travel trailer, but the family was unhurt in the station wagon. Also unhurt was the family dog and cat. However, a rabbit on the roadside was killed in the accident.

The accident, on the Metcalf Highway Monday afternoon was investigated by Trooper R. W. Whitworth.

Mayor Sam Sawyer announced Monday that the special day "Cornelia Wallace Day" has been set for September 12th. This is on Friday, and the day Elba High School football team plays Luverne in Elba.

Sawyer said committees are meeting and detailed plans for the special day will be announced in the near future.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

We commented here last week about the jump in gasoline prices. Now the national news media reports that two senators will launch an inquiry into the matter. We won't attempt to claim credit for their concern nor try to supply them with data for their investigation. Actually this writer is a little bit shy about being on the same side of an issue as "Scoop" Jackson. It seems that whenever he is involved, something fouls up right quick.

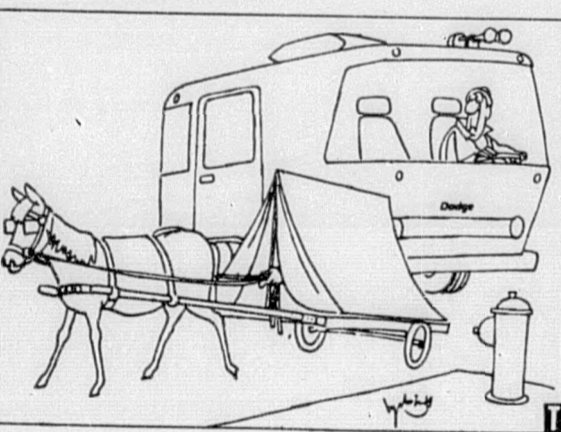

The spring floods in Elba are now little more than conversation material to most folks in Elba, Alabama. However, in Elba, Nebraska, the high water is an immediate problem. Like our community, the Nebraska town is on the banks of a river and during the past week the river has come out of its banks and entered the low lying houses and mobile homes. They have our sympathy.

Well, the Russians are at it again apparently. The word circulating this week is that they are buying more American wheat. More than likely, now that the word is out, they have already bought all they really need and probably some to sell back to us at inflated prices! Actually the way the news reports, they are quietly leasing ships to haul grain, but no one will lease a grain hauling boat unless they plan to haul grain, so we can look for wheat prices (and bread products) to shoot up in price again.

I get the urge to wring someone's neck when I read of such things as the two children dying in a parked car last week. It happened in Wichita, Kansas, when the mother of the children went into a jail to visit an inmate. Anyone who has been through the midwest in summer knows how hot it gets in a hurry. The boiling sun, no breeze and a closed up car are enough to kill most anyone. The mother has been charged with involuntary manslaughter by the Sedgewick County Sheriff's Department.

There is a little country in Africa that has attracted a Russian military repair and storage project. American experts have concluded that to keep the balance in that country, we should pour our tax dollars into the country as "foreign aid." When we ever learn that our dollars will not buy good solid friends. All this does is encourage someone else to try the same tactics.

We had some folks asking about the Elba City elections this week. Well, these elections are set by law for late summer in 1976. That gives us about a year before the city voters start making big promises. However, by the time we are hit full force by the city candidates, we should be somewhat conditioned, because we will be just completing four or five months of County Commission and Probate Judge selections. It is all talk I know, but no money lender would loan money to current office holder if he was depending on the tax money paying it back, cause to listen at all the talk, there ain't a remote chance for any office holder (President on down) to win another election -- ever.

MOTOR POOL

by Greg Brunson, Clipper Racing Reporter

Two exciting programs of races took place at Rocket Motor Speedway this past weekend. Friday night's card had six races and a demolition derby, while Saturday night's rain out caused racing to be postponed until Sunday afternoon.

Friday night's races started with a helmet dash for the four fastest qualifiers. Billy Wayne Etheridge had the pole position with Wayne Newton on his right. As the green flag came out, Etheridge jumped to a commanding lead and held it for all eight laps. Elba's Jack Young placed second followed by Wayne Newton.

The second race was the "B Class" late model sportman. Earl Welch and Bobby "Ro-Bo" Shellgrove made up the front row for this six car race. Shellgrove held the lead for the first lap only to Jeff Walker get by and stay in the lead for the last 9 laps. Butch Hest came in second followed by Earl Welch.

The evening's third race was the "A Class" late model sportman race with Dennis Hicks and Don Davis sharing the front row. Glover held the lead for six laps until he spun out which gave the lead to Ernie Dean for the last four laps and the checkered flag. Wayne Newton and Dennis Hicks finished second and third, respectively.

The on car spectator heat race was the next race on the card for the night. Phillip Holland and Don Davis shared front row honors for this race. Jimmy Kilpatrick grabbed the lead for the first four laps only to see Jerry Still fly past for the last six laps and the victory. Jerome Harvor finished second with Jimmy Kilpatrick in third.

The next to last race of the evening was the feature race for Spectator Class cars. Jerome Harvor and Jerry Still shared the front row. Harvor held the lead for all four laps and the victory. Jerry Still finished second.

The last race of the evening was the feature race for Late-Model Sportman. Phillip Holland and Don Davis shared front row honors for this race. Jerry Still grabbed the lead for the first lap only to see Butch Hest fly past for the last 24 laps and a narrow victory. Hest was followed to the finish line by Ernie Dean, Elba's Jack Young, and Wayne Newton.

Elba's star driver, Harold Spicer, had a very disappointing night. Harold finished seventh in both races because of a malfunction of his fuel pump.

The Saturday night helmet dash was between the fastest and third fastest qualifiers, because Jack Young, the second fastest qualifier had a problem with water mixing with oil. Ernie Dean had the pole with Dennis Hicks in the right. Dean jumped to his early lead and stayed there for all six laps and the victory.

The second race was the spectator "B Class" division with Don Davis and Robert Rogers on the front row. Rogers stayed in the lead for two laps when Jerry Nugent got by to hold the lead for three laps only to see Phillip Holland get into the lead for the last five laps. Nugent was second with Rogers third.

After the race, the bottom fell out. A thunderstorm came up causing the races to be postponed until Sunday afternoon.

The first race Sunday afternoon was the slower Sportman heat race. Ro-Bo Shellgrove and Earl Welch shared the front row honors in this event. Welch held onto the lead for the first two laps until Charlie Skipper eased by for the lead and the checkered flag. Shellgrove finished second followed by Lewis MacCramie.

The second race of the afternoon was the spectator division "A Class" with Randall Adams and Harold Spicer on the front row. As the green flag came out, Harold Spicer went out front and stayed there for all 10 laps. Spicer was followed by Earl Welch and Jerry Still in third.

The third race of the afternoon was the fastest of the Sportman cars with Billy Wayne Etheridge and Butch Hest on the front row. Etheridge held the lead for all 12 laps. Hest finished second followed by Jack Young and Ernie Dean.

As the afternoon went on the heat became almost unbearable. Ray "Sonnie" Gooden was the last race of the day was the Spectator feature race which has ten entries with Jerome Harvor and

Busing Proves To Be To American Education

Back in 1966 the Office of Education in the Department of HEW released a study by Dr. James S. Coleman of Chicago calling for the use of forced mass busing of school children in order to bring about racial balance in the public schools. The Coleman Report said, in effect, that forcing busing is the way to gain quality education for all children.

Just a few weeks ago the results of a five year study which showed that forced busing is creating a disaster in the Nation's public schools. The ultra-liberals pushed their views upon the Nation and school boards have been forced to spend millions of dollars buying expensive busing systems.

Dr. Bancroft Cooper Completes Education Requirements Course

Dr. L. Bancroft Cooper of the Elba area has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

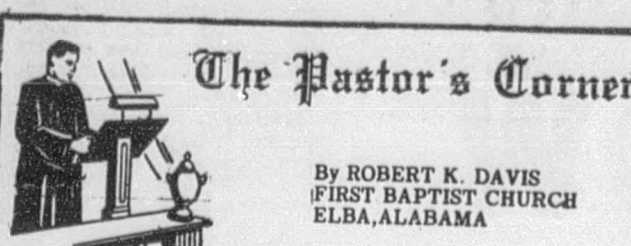

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice in 1960. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

In the midst of plenty, there is still want. Many students at MacArthur Technical College, because of technical difficulties, are not eligible for the many state and federal programs which are set up to give financial aid to students. A Scholarship Committee was set up before the school opened to take care of those people who needed help and were denied the use of state or federal funds. Recently eighteen area agencies of Liberty National Life Insurance Company gave individual checks to this scholarship fund. They were: Donald Wilson, Gene Cobb, Charles Byrd and Terry Owen of Opp; Michael Pitts, Don Graves, Mickey Watson, Cope, Charles E. Wadsworth, E. C. Nevins, Jr., Harold W. Young, Grimes and Howard, Jr. of Andalusia; Marjorie Johnson of Sumter; John Harris of Red Level; David Harrison and David, Florida.

Local Doctor Attends Seminar

Dr. Clyde J. Fontes of Elba returned this week from New Orleans, Louisiana, where he attended a four-day advanced training seminar conducted by Parker Chiropractic Research Foundation.

Headed by Dr. James W. Parker, the Foundation has pioneered developments in modern chiropractic care, and today attracts an international representation of nearly 10,000 doctors and chiropractic assistants a year to its bi-monthly seminars.

Special guest at the July Homecoming Seminar was Dr. Fred Benton, who was also a participant in the seminar. In his address to the audience of over 2,000, Dr. Benton praised the modern Doctor of Chiropractic.

"It is highly gratifying to see life prolonged and health increased through the public's every-growing awareness of chiropractic as a major healing science. Those doctors who strive to increase their knowledge through seminars such as this are indeed expanding their service to their communities."

Representatives of The Elba Clipper were guests of the Alabama National Guard last Wednesday, July 2, at Camp Shelby, Mississippi. Camp Shelby is the summer home of nearly 8,000 citizen-soldiers from various Alabama cities for two weeks of military training each summer. Men and women - who for the other 50 weeks of the year are bankers, students, farmers, mechanics, doctors, lawyers or whatever - put on the Army uniform every summer to sharpen their military skills during their annual training session at Camp Shelby.

With headquarters, Troop Command as the major headquarters unit and under the watchful eye of regular Army evaluators, the Guardsmen fine-tune their artillery pieces, practice tactics with their armor and infantry weapons, maneuver their helicopters and install tactical communications systems.

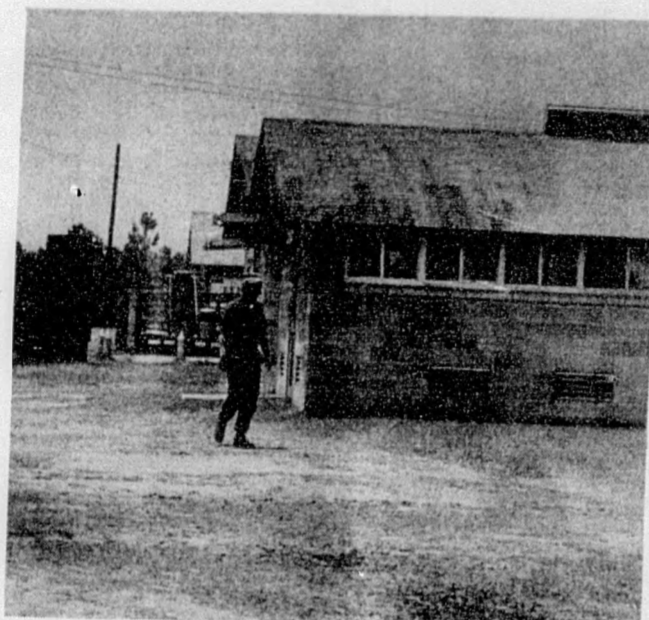

Military Police and medical units put into practice the military training they have received in years past. Army Engineers do actual construction work here at Shelby and even a military postal unit delivers the mail.

The troops - including 95 men from the Elba unit - arrived the day of June 28. The largest unit participating in this year's training session is the 31st Armor Brigade with headquarters in Tuscaloosa. After a drive to Montgomery, the National Guard troops along with a dozen other local newspaper reporters, to Hattiesburg, Miss., which is some 20 miles from the camp.

Following a bus ride to Camp, the press were given a brief welcome by Guard officials. All press representatives were then issued escorts to motor them around the camp.

Sgt. Bobby Mills from Elba served as The Elba Clipper escort, and gave a two hour guided tour of the various facilities in Camp Shelby.

The Guard held a "going away" party at 3:30, and the day's activities were over.

Could you pass this Red Cross swimming test?

1. Breaststroke - 100 Yds.
2. Sidestroke - 100 Yds.
3. Crawl stroke - 100 Yds.
4. Back crawl - 50 Yds.
5. On back (legs only) - 50 Yds.
6. Turns (on front, back, side).
7. Surface dive - underwater swim - 20 Ft.
8. Dive - float with clothes - 5 mins.
9. Long shallow dive.
10. Running front dive.
11. 40-minute swim.

Anybody who takes a Red Cross swim course knows how tough it can be. There's a good reason.

We believe drowning is a serious business. Last year alone, we taught 2,989,203 Americans not to drown - in the seven different swim courses we offer all across the country. (Incidentally, most of the teaching - as with almost everything American Red Cross does - is done by dedicated volunteers.)

A good many of the youngsters not only are learning to keep themselves safe, thousands upon thousands of them are learning to become lifesavers.

And the life they save - it just might be your own.

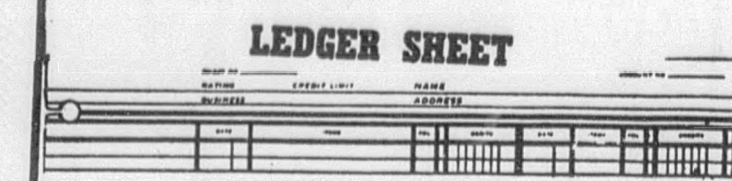

Red Cross. The Good Neighbor.
